About EuroRoadS project results

The EuroRoadS-project terminated on 31 August 2006 and all final reports are now to be found on www.euroroads.org. This includes the public final project report, the final versions of the specification framework, the implementation and exploitation plan.

EuroRoadS has met the operational goals being defined in the project setup. The project is timely and meets important requirements. In most countries the spatial data infrastructures (SDI) are now in the process of being developed both on national, regional and local level. Also on the European level – pushed by the INSPIRE initiative – the European SDI are now developing rapidly.

EuroRoadS has a suitable technical approach and links ITS and geomatics. Already now the results are being used in practice and there are also projects and initiatives planning to make use of the specifications, quality model and other results. Still it is important to promote a wider practical use of the results giving more experiences and basis for further development.

Travelling to Malmö, Sweden

Malmö is situated between two airports, Copenhagen/Kastrup Airport in Denmark and Sturup Airport 30 km south-east of Malmö. Sturup Airport has several daily flight connections to Stockholm Arlanda, to Bromma Airport and there are regular international flights to Sturup from London/Stansted. For more information on Sturup Airport and flights: www.sturup.com.

The airport shuttle takes you from the centre of Malmö to Sturup Airport in 40 minutes. For more information on airport buses, contact Skånetrafiken: www.skanetrafiken.se.

Copenhagen/Kastrup Airport is connected to Malmö by the Öresund Bridge. Trains run around the clock from Malmö Central Station to the airport, and the journey from Malmö takes 20 minutes.

For more information about Öresund trains, please contact Skånetrafiken: www.skanetrafiken.se. Of course, the airport can also be reached by car.

It is also possible to go by bus from Kastrup to Malmö, more information: www.grahundbus.dk or www.swebusexpress.se. For more information on Copenhagen/Kastrup Airport and flights, visit www.cph.dk.

Information on the project is to be found on: www.euroroads.org
